

SCORES OF LIVES LOST; BLIZZARDS AND FLOODS

Terrific Rains and Storms Leave Desolation in Their Path in the Southern and Eastern Sections of the United States.

PERIL IS GREATEST AT PITTSBURG

Surging Waters Carrying Dams and Ice Gorges Sweeping Down the Allegheny--Rivers Reach Danger Point, and Warnings Are Sent Out.

Torrential rains, washouts, tornadoes, all in the Southeast; floods, breakings of dams and ice gorges in Pennsylvania; copious and even devastating rains in the middle Atlantic states; severe thunderstorms in the lower Ohio valley; winds and rains in the Missouri basin; snow blizzards in Minnesota and the Dakotas--such reports came in over crisscrossed line of telegraph from all directions today. Every section reported similar general conditions, only varying in the local manifestations. But whether flood or wind or snow or rain all were due to one vast meteorological state, extending from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic ocean and in width the great breadth of the United States itself.

Ice Gorges Bursting
Pennsylvania's mountain streams and rivers are roaring out of banks. Great dams are sundered. Ice gorges twenty-four miles in length above Pittsburgh are bursting or bursting, endangering railway bridges and the lower wards of the steel city. Heavy freight trains are holding down the Fort Wayne railroad bridge over the Allegheny. Behind the moving ice gorges as they pass anxious Pittsburghers the waters are rising, thirty feet predicted in the Allegheny, eight feet already in the Youghiogheny. Minor in the flats are homeless, schools in small towns are dismissed and industries are being forced to stop.

Towns Under Water
In eastern Pennsylvania the mountain torrents are fanning into the Susquehanna, the Schuylkill and the Conestoga. Stover's dam, near Lebanon, holding back a sheet of thirty acres, is gone. Most wards of the town are inundated. Half the colonies about Reading are shut down. At Lancaster the Susquehanna is higher than in 1887, when the Pennsylvania railroad bridge was swept away. Harrisburg, the capital, fears a deluge. The mountain region of the Carolinas, eastern Tennessee and Upper Georgia is spouting floods, which have carried out the bridges and wrecked the wires. The damage is enormous, loss of life is reported and more conjectured.

ALARM IN PITTSBURG.

It Is Feared that the Allegheny Will Rise to 35 Feet.
Pittsburg, March 1.--The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers continue to rise. All the cellars and basements along the river front are flooded. All railroad and street car tracks are many feet under water. The mills along the river in Allegheny are forced to close.

The excitement in both cities is further increased by the announcement this morning by the weather forecaster, that the river would rise to 35 feet. This would submerge all previous floods and cause incalculable damage. Already ten thousand men are in idleness on account of the mills and factories being flooded. All street car lines between Pittsburgh and Allegheny are shut off by the flood. Other street car lines traversing the low lying districts are compelled to abandon their service.

Lackawanna Valley Flood.
Scranton, Pa., March 1.--The most damaging flood in the Lackawanna valley swept this region yesterday and last night and this morning. The territory along the Lackawanna river presents a desolate appearance. All railroad communication is practically cut off. Great damage to property is done. The residents along the river front have fled to other sections.

Schuylkill River Flood
Philadelphia, Pa., March 1.--The most disastrous flood in years on the Schuylkill river tore down the entire length of the stream last night and this morning, and is doing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage. Thus far only one life is reported lost. The river is expanded twice its width. Only the most meagre information comes from the towns along the river, as the telegraph and telephone wires are down.

DEATH AND DEVASTATION

Hardly a Section of the County But Echoes Damages by Storm
Chicago, March 1.--Hardly a section of the country escaped damage by flood Friday. Not fewer than thirty miners were killed in a snowslide in Colorado, and late reports said the death list might go to seventy. From Texas to the northwest and from New York to Chattanooga wires were down, railroads flooded, bridges wrecked and ice gorges were threatening desolation to villages in Pennsylvania and upper New York.

The gale in Ohio devastated miles of country, unroofed houses in Cleveland, carried away tops of church spires, upturned wooden houses and left a wide path of ruin.

Some of the rivers in Alabama have risen twenty-two feet in twenty-four hours, a record that is almost equaled by the rise of the Tennessee river, which is up twenty-one and a half feet, and by the last report was still rising at the rate of a foot an hour. A train was wrecked by a washout on the Norfolk & Southwestern in Virginia, and railroad bridges are down on this road at Elizabethtown and in several other places.

At Tallahassee, Fla., the new wing of the state capitol is laid open, the entire south wall having been leveled by the storm. A cyclone passed over Dawson, Ga., killing several people, and for several miles near Jackson the railroad tracks are under five feet of water.

FOUR GIRLS AND TWO MEN MISSING

Collapse of the Cleveland Baking Company's Four Story Building This Morning.

Cleveland, O., March 1.--The Cleveland Baking Company's four story building collapsed this morning. Two men and four girls are missing and are supposed to be dead in the ruins. The collapse was caused, it is stated, by over weighting the top floor.

George N. Van Etta was up from Chicago today on a business mission.

RIDE PRINCE WILL NEVER FORGET, WITH ROOSEVELT, ON HORSEBACK

They Went at a Clipping Pace, with Mud and Slush Flying All Over Them--Had "The Time of Their Lives."

Washington, March 1.--That ride Prince Henry had with President Roosevelt he will probably never forget. Though trained to the quarter deck instead of the saddle the Prince is a fair horseman. He had said to the President that he needed exercise to help him assimilate all these big dinners and luncheons.

"Will you take a ride with me?" asked the President.

"With the greatest pleasure," replied the Prince.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the President sent a spirited bay mare to the German embassy. She was feeling her oats. "She is just the thing for the Prince," said the President, who knew her well. "I want him to have the liveliest ride he ever had--one he'll remember."

A few moments later the President appeared on his big horse, a whip in his hand, and the old campaign hat on his head. The prince came out, attired in a swell riding suit, with boots and hunting hat. The sun was shining as they set out. The President led the way slowly until they had reached the open country in the vicinity of the zoological park. Then he set a lively pace. It had been raining nearly all day, and the roads were continuous pools and puddles. Rain fell again in sheets and torrents. The President didn't mind the rain, and Prince Henry said he didn't.

A dashing canter through the valley of Rock Creek, and both were covered with mud. The President suggested going home; the prince said he would not think of it; he wanted a ride. Then Mr. Roosevelt set out again. Through Pierce's mill road and the rain he went at a flying clip, mud and slush flying over him. The prince was game and followed hard after. At dark they returned horses and riders covered with mud from bow to stern, both declaring they had had "the time of their lives."

PRINCE HENRY IS ON ROAD WEST

Will Reach Cincinnati Tonight, and Twenty Minutes Will Be Spent in Brilliant Festivities.

Washington, March 1.--Prince Henry of Prussia is on his way westward. At 12:30 this morning the special train bearing the nation's royal visitor from the theater of officialdom and diplomatic courtesies to the many cities where a warm welcome is awaiting him was begun. Pittsburgh, Pa., was reached at 10:30 a. m. Ten minutes' wait was made.

Columbus, O., will be reached at 4:40 p. m. Here a ten minutes' stop will be made and Gov. Nash in behalf of the state will give the visitor welcome.

Cincinnati will be reached at 8 p. m. and there twenty minutes will be spent in festivities, a programme having been arranged to crowd as many events as possible into the small time at his disposal of the prince.

Portage, Pa., March 1.--Prince Henry's special is held here by a freight wreck, two miles west, and the railroad people are unable to say when it will get away. The prince left his car for a short walk and was approached by a stranger, a shabbily dressed man, but the secret service men kept him away.

Johnstown, Pa., March 1.--Prince Henry arrived here two hours late on account of the wreck near Portage. The train did not stop here. The Prince was riding in the cab and bowed to the people who cheered as he sped by.

Altoona, Pa., March 1.--Because he was dressed in civilian clothes the Prince was not recognized by the mayor, who headed a committee to extend the freedom of the city to the royal guest. "Where is the prince?" cried Mayor Digging as he passed. "I'm the Prince," responded a quiet gentleman with a smile. The mayor was nearly taken off his feet in astonishment.

TWO HUNDRED MEN STRIKE AT BELOIT

Molders Takes Offense Over the Discharge of a Fellow Laborer, and Walk Out.

Beloit Wis., March 1.--Two hundred molders in the Fairbanks, Morse & Co's plant went on a strike yesterday afternoon because C. O. Chaffield, secretary of their union, was discharged, and vow they will not return until he is re-instated. It is stated today that the trouble will be amicably and speedily settled. The workmen declared that he is a steady and competent man, and was discharged simply because he was away for two or three days. They affirm that his re-union to them was responsible for his dismissal. Final action of the company involved has not been made public yet.

Miss Stone in Constantinople
Constantinople, March 1.--Miss Stone arrived here this morning. She immediately called on the American minister.

FLOODS CAUSE DELAY OF TRAINS

Mineral Point Division of the St. Paul Road Is Having a Hard Time of It.

The morning passenger trains on the C. & St. P. R. were held at this station about thirty minutes this forenoon on account of the delay in the arrival of the Mineral Point train which should reach this city about 10:25. That train was thirty minutes late.

The delay was caused by floods along the road which covered the track in many places between Burlington and Broadhead. At Gratiot passengers were transferred from the business part of the village to the depot in boats. At Monroe about five inches of snow fell last night and five miles east or west of that city hardly a bit of snow is to be found.

Freight and passenger trains on the Mineral Point division are having all sorts of trouble in making good time.

MURDERED BY CRAZY MAN.

Young Milwaukeean Shot Because His Assistant Had Been Teased.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 1.--Young Herman Bergemann was murdered as he left the dining-room of the Wisconsin house. He was whistling a popular air and did not know that he had an enemy. The shooting was done by Herman Hesse, who is supposed to be insane. Hesse never had any words with his victim, the only excuse he could offer for the crime was that he men at the boarding-house had teased him.

Business Soldiers in Revolt.
Pekin, March 1.--In response to a request for information from Mr. Conger, the American minister, the board of foreign affairs states that 10,000 soldiers have rebelled in the Nanning district, province of Kiangsi, and they have been augmented by many recruits.

DELAYS SALE OF PANAMA CANAL

Republic of Colombia Has Objections to the Transfer.

WAS BIG SURPRISE

French Company Votes to Postpone Negotiations for Sale to America.

IT MEANS NICARAGUA

Paris, France, March 1.--The shareholders of the Panama Canal company, after an angry and excited debate, adopted a resolution which practically suspends, for the time being, the negotiations for the sale of the uncompleted waterway to the United States.

The shareholders' action was based on a communication received from the Colombian Consul General at Paris, setting forth that the company could not transfer its concession to another nation without first, with the assent of Colombia, modifying the stipulations of articles 21 and 22 of the agreement.

Provisions Referred To
Article 21 provides: "The grantees, or those who in the future may succeed them in their rights, may transfer these rights to their capitalists or financial companies, but are absolutely prohibited to cede or mortgage them under whatever consideration to any nation or foreign government."

Article 22 provides that the grantees or their representatives shall lose the rights acquired in the concession by a violation of article 21.

After a discussion, during which it was urged that efforts should be made to keep the concession for France, the meeting adopted a resolution expressing approval of the attitude of the board of directors and deciding in view of the message of the Colombian Consul General, to postpone entering into any engagement.

Come as a Surprise
The dispatch of the Colombian government was a complete surprise to the shareholders of the Panama Canal company, who met this afternoon in expectation of merely ratifying the action of the board of directors in offering the Panama Canal company's property to the United States for $40,000,000, which offer was to remain

LOGGING ROADS ARE WASHED OUT

Two Weeks' Thaw, Followed by Rains, Shortens Wisconsin Lumber Season by Three Weeks.

Marquette, Wis., March 1.--A two week's thaw followed by a rain, which has already lasted twenty-four hours, has wiped out all the logging roads in Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan as far north as Ishpeming. The men are hurrying out of the woods by the hundreds. Unless cold weather and snow come within a day or two operations everywhere will be suspended for the winter, three weeks earlier than usual. There will be a big shortage in the log crop for 1902.

VACCINATE ALL IN MANITOWOC

City Has Undertaken to Do the Job Free of Charge--Fear in Beloit.

Manitowoc, Wis., March 1.--At a special meeting of the board of health held last night it was decided that the city would provide free vaccination to all those desiring it, and special efforts will be made to have all vaccinated. The city is to pay 25 cents each, and furnish the doctors with vaccine. It is estimated that this will cost the city over $2,000.

Dr. Wingate Consults on Smallpox.
Beloit, Wis., March 1.--Dr. Wingate of Milwaukee, secretary of the state board of health, held a consultation last night with the local physicians concerning the smallpox cases. Rockton, four miles from here, also has smallpox, according to the Illinois state board of health, although the cases are very light.

Elkhorn, Wis., March 1.--While putting down a well in the northwest part of the city C. M. Cooper struck a vein of coal or lignite at a depth of about forty-eight feet. Some of the substance was taken into the house and placed in the stove, and it was found to burn as readily as soft coal. The vein is said to be from eight to twelve inches deep. After the coal was passed the auger struck into hard clay.

It is Prince Henry's desire to see as much of the business side as of the social side of Chicago. Through the Imperial German Consul the Prince has let it be known to the associated committees in charge of his entertainment that it would be his pleasure to visit some of the great commercial institutions of the city.

It is expected that the Prince will be given an opportunity to meet some of the Chicago "captains of industry" during his hurried calls at some of the larger financial and commercial institutions.

FINAL END OF THE SCHLEY CASE

Congress Will Refuse to Open the Controversy in Any Form--Action Taken Yesterday.

Washington, D. C., March 1.--All prospects of congressional action in the Schley case disappeared yesterday afternoon when the house naval committee refused by a vote of 9 to 5 to take any action whatever on any of the Schley resolutions, and the committee by the same vote adjourned.

Representative Dayton of West Virginia, the acting chairman of the committee, said after the meeting emphatically that so far as he was concerned congress would not take any action on the Schley case. He would vote against it in committee as well as in the House.

Still Search for E. W. Connell
A force of men made a further search of the race during the day to see if any trace of the missing Edward W. Connell could be found. The bottom has been thoroughly explored so that it would seem that he was not in the race. Several people have stated that they saw him Monday night about 7:30 o'clock near Back's clothing store but after that time all trace of him is lost.

Joke on Col Dooley
Quite a good joke was played on Col. W. T. Dooley yesterday at the Donahoe auction. Col. Dooley prides himself on owning a very valuable horse. In the sale ring C. W. Kemmer and George Charlton had this horse put up for sale. The highest bid received was $40, at which price he was sold. Suffice to say the boys are smoking good cigars at the auctioneer's expense.

Agree on Philippine Bill
Washington, March 1.--The conferees of the house and senate hold a long session this morning at which a complete agreement on the Philippine tariff bill was reached. With the exception of a few unimportant changes the bill will become a law just as it passed the senate. The duties as they are levied will be 75 per cent. of the full Dingley rates, the fund being used for the benefit of the Philippines.

GEN. LOUIS BOTHA TRICKS ENEMY: IS TAKEN PRISONER, BUT ESCAPES

The Famous Boer Commander Had a Very Narrow Escape From Occupying a British Prison--Safely Joins His Fleeing Command.

London, March 1.--War Secretary Broudrick announced in the commons today, with considerable uncton, that General DeWet's son had been captured. But he failed to impart to the legislators more surprising news. This is that the famous General Louis Botha had also been made prisoner--and had got away again. It will be remembered that when Broudrick's troops made the night attack at Knapdun they captured several prisoners and the camp equipment of the Boers. Among the men taken was General Louis Botha, but the British did not recognize him and the other prisoners took care to shield him in every possible manner. After the pursuit of the fugitives had ended the captured men were divided into groups, and Botha, fortunately for him, was included in the number that was intrusted to the

ROCK COUNTY PIONEER DEAD

William M. Squire Passed Away at Los Angeles, Aged 87 Years.

LIVED AT FULTON

Walked 300 Miles to Settle in This County in the Fall of 1837.

CAME TO JANESVILLE

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 25.--(Special)--Wm. M. Squire, who was a pioneer resident of Fulton, Rock county, but who for the last sixteen years had lived in Los Angeles, Cal., passed from this life at his home at the age of eighty-seven years, after a six weeks' illness from stomach trouble resulting from old age.

He leaves three sons, all of whom live in Los Angeles, and were with him during his last illness: William, Charles and Marion; his eldest son William having lost his wife with pneumonia only four months before.

A. C. Munger of Janesville is a nephew of Grandpa Squire and there are many other relatives scattered through the small towns. Mr. (and Mrs.) Babcock formerly of the Edgerton Bank, now a resident of Los Angeles and Lawyer Towne, now of Edgerton; Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Miles, formerly of Fulton, and George Ward and wife, formerly of Janesville, were Wisconsin friends among those who attended the large funeral.

Walked 300 Miles to Fulton
He was born in Hinsdale, Berkshire Co., Mass., in 1814, where he remained until a young man. When at the age of 22 years he married Mary Ann Thayer, who lived near his home. In the winter of 1836 he came west in a sleigh to Ohio. In the following summer they continued their journey on to Jackson, Michigan, remaining here a little over one year. In the fall of 1837, he, with three other men, walked from there to Fulton, Rock Co., Wis., (then a territory), a distance of over three hundred miles, to file a claim on a quarter of a section of government land.

Later he moved his family to the new claim by wagon, the trip proving a sad one as their first child, a little baby girl, died enroute.

They built a log house and stable and during their pioneer days had many experiences with the Indians, which were plentiful then. Janesville at his time, 1837, consisted of only three or four log cabins, one of which was occupied by Thos. Lappin, who kept a small stock of groceries, the cabin occupying the same corner, where the Lappin block now stands. After splitting rails enough to pay for his land he walked to Milwaukee to "prove up" on it.

Public Spirited Man
Here he lived until 1883 and replaced the log house and stable with modern buildings and supplied himself with all the equipments necessary to a comfortable and prosperous farmhouse. His three sons and one girl were born here, the girl, however dying in infancy. In 1883 he sold the farm and bought a home in Emerald Grove where his eldest son was in the grocery business.

His wife who was in delicate health lived only two years after their removal here and he then accompanied his son and family to Los Angeles.

Mr. Squire was always public spirited, taking a keen interest in the affairs of his state and nation, as well as in his own immediate vicinity, and very frequently held some public office, at one time holding the office of tax assessor of the Fulton township.

Rumor That Rhodes Is Dead
London, March 1.--The rumor is current among stock brokers that Cecil Rhodes is dead. A telegram received here from Capetown, states that Rhodes is ill, but don't speak of him as being dead.

Letters Written by Janes Show His Characteristics

The character of Henry Janes is indicated by a paragraph that he wrote in letters to the Janesville Gazette, and published in April and November 1885. It would appear to one who has followed him on his journeys, that he had enjoyed enough hardships to satisfy an ordinary man, but it appears that he had not. He says:

"Since that time (August 24, 1839, when he left Janesville) I have been constantly working westward, till now the nasty Pacific has made a stop to further progress in that direction. In the fall of 1843, I reached the Pacific coast and yet the sun sets west of me, and my wife positively refused to go to Sandwich Islands, and the bark is sliding off of my rails, and that is longer than I ever allowed myself to remain on our farm; so that I am at a loss how to act in the present dilemma."

And again he says:

"If any of the wahoos of Janesville who have not had the good or bad fortune to be acquainted with me, desire more information, I can inform them that I am now (1855) in my fifty-second year, weigh 210 pounds, stand 6 feet 2 inches in my socks, and have rambled with my family, over more of the western country, and to less purpose, than any other man in it."

Janes. Not Jayne.

Evidently Mr. Janes took a pardonable pride in the fact that Janesville was named for him, and was somewhat jealous of the honor. In one of his letters to the Gazette, he says:

"As old Dr. Jayne, of Medicine, has claimed that Janesville was named for him, I appeal to A. T. Walker, G. H. Williston, D. Smiley, Chas. Stevens, Gen. Sheldon and others who were in Rock County at an early day. On the 15th of January, 1839 (afterward corrected by Mr. Janes to the 15th of February) I cut the initials of my name on a black jack, on the city plat, and called it my name. At that time Samuel St. John was the only resident of the city. When I left Janesville (Aug. 24, 1839) the stump of the old black jack was standing in the street between the house built for myself and Charles Stevens and the river, on North side of the street."

It is said that the stump Janes referred to, stood as he described it for some time after he left, a building being erected on the spot in 1855.

Heavy Vote in 1836.

Having thus disposed of Dr. Jayne's claim, Mr. Janes proceeds to tell about the election of 1836, the whole number of votes cast in Rock County, being 32.

"Of these" says Janes, "Gilbert Knapp received 32 for the council; Alonzo Sweet, Wm. Lee and Mr. Reed had about an equal number each for the same office, two to be elected. Charles Durkee, Gen. Sheldon and Dr. Cornwall got the votes for the assembly. I am satisfied that at that time the entire population of Rock County would not have reached 100 people.

The first election was held at the home of Samuel St. John, south of the city, and as was to be expected, by persons familiar with Janes, that gentleman was not long in getting into the political arena himself. He tells of it as follows:

Defeated by Whitton.

"Judge Whitton beat me for the legislature, not on political but on local grounds. At that time, in 1836 or 1837, Janesville was the Sebastopol and Beloit, Wisconsin City. St. George's Rapids and Humber's Ferry were the 'alled powers' that besieged it. I was put in nomination by the Janesville party, and after two or three caucuses, the allies selected Judge Whitton. And they elected him."

Continuing Mr. Janes says:

"I am told that I would be lost in amazement if I were to visit the city at his time (1855). No doubt such would be the fact, as I was monarch of all I surveyed, from the bank of the river to the bluff, and as far up and down as the bends of the river would permit. There was not a mark of civilization to be seen when I first marked out my location where now stands the city of Janesville."

Had the Only Grindstone.

"Some of your readers," says Mr. Janes in concluding his letter to the Gazette, "would probably think it strange that twenty years have gone by since the entire population of Janesville consisted of one family—myself, wife and four children. Instead of paved streets, there was an Indian trail which wound its serpentine course through what is probably now the heart of the city, and all of the land on the flat and sides of the bluffs back from the river, were covered with scrub oak timber, and instead of the whistle of the railroad cars, or the hum and bustle of the thousands that daily throng your streets, we had the croaking of the Kiato, or the midnight yell of the drunken Indian. At that time there were no houses, farms or implements as far as the eye could reach. Traders took their course and traveled where it suited their purpose, and were at home where and when night overtook them."

"Twenty years ago I owned the only grindstone in Rock County, and people came from the remote parts of the county to grind their axes, chares, etc."

"I have never been able to learn where you built your court house. I had selected a block to put it on on top of the hill back of where Harvey Story's blacksmith shop stood when I left Janesville."

This ends Mr. Janes' story, but from the journal of Isaac T. Smith, in 1836 come further facts concerning Mr. Janes are found.

FIRST AUTOMOBILE ARRIVES IN TOWN

E. Tracy Brown, the Shoe Man, Has a Remington; Weight is 1300 Pounds and Cost $1,000

The first automobile purchased by a Janesville citizen, arrived in town. It is the property of E. Tracy Brown, the shoe man. It was made by the Remington Automobile Co., of Utica, N. Y., and cost $1,000. It weighs 1,300 pounds and the freight bill was $50. The automobile is substantially built, plainly constructed and is propelled by gasoline. It was tested before being shipped and was run through snow 24 inches deep. When the weather will permit, the machine will be brought out on the streets.

A Noted Historical Place

Hackney, in the east end of London, is a very ancient place, and a very historical one.

The Manor belonged to the Knights Templar for over two hundred years. The Knight Templar palace was also the palace of Jane Shore the unfortunate mistress of Henry IV. Palace road is named for her. Hackney is the burial ground of the original Knight Templar. Isaac Watts was born here as was Daniel DeFoe, who wrote Robinson Crusoe.

Samuel Wesley, father of the immortal John and Charles was born here. Mathew Henry who wrote the commentary on the Bible lived here. I believe was born here.

Lord Darnley, husband of Mary, Queen of Scots, and father of James, the First, lived here.

Princess Elizabeth had twelve children; Sophia the youngest, was the mother of King George, the First, and lived at Hackney.

Sir Walter Raleigh lived here.

Sir Thos. Moore of historical fame lived here.

Here also was the historical celebrated charter house, the ruins still to be seen.

Dick Turpin, the notorious highwayman, lived here.

Jack, the Painter, who attempted to blow up the docks at Portsmouth, lived in Hackney.

Isaac Disraeli, father of Lord Beaconsfield lived here. Was born here tolerably poor.

John Howard, the great prison reformer lived here.

Samuel Morley, the peoples' champion, lived here.

Edgar Allan Poe and the unfortunate Major Andre lived here.

The late Queen Victoria is twice connected by blood with the residents of Hackney, first with Lord Darnley; second, Queen Elizabeth of Bohemia.

There are dozens upon dozens of very ancient and important historical facts connected with Hackney.

"SPORTING LIFE" ON MONDAY NIGHT

Spectacular Production Which Had a Long Run in Chicago and New York, Appears Here.

Perhaps one of the most important of the theatrical offerings for this season, is the successful London melodrama, "Sporting Life" which comes to the Myers Grand next Monday, March 3. Much in the way of merit is claimed for this production and its long runs in New York and Chicago last year would seem to justify the sweeping account that it is the most important melodramatic presentation ever made in this country. The fact that there are no less than 12 different scenes, gives spectacular importance to the production, and the nature of the pictures shown will give some idea of the magnitude necessary to produce the illusion.

WHELAN SPEAKS TO THE WOODMEN

Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Well Filled Last Night—Splendid Address by the Madison Man.

The auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building was well-filled with Modern Woodman last evening. The occasion was one of great interest as the speaker of the evening was Hon. Charles E. Whelan, of Madison, who spoke under the auspices of the local camp of Woodmen.

The meeting was called to order by Venerable Consul Frank P. Starr, who asked Rev. James Churm to preside. The latter introduced the speaker of the evening in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. Whelan is national lecturer of the order and is a very pleasant speaker. He took for his subject "Fraternity" which means much to the woodcraft.

Mr. Whelan has just returned from an extended trip in the East and was glad to get back to the middle West and especially Wisconsin. After briefly reviewing his eastern trip, in which he deprecated the fact that the eastern people do not take kindly to the benefits of fraternal insurance, the speaker spoke most eloquently of the order of Woodmen. The order, he claimed, stood as the head of all beneficiary societies, with a membership of 680,000.

The speaker recited the history of the order from its inception in a lodge of twenty-four members to the present time when it is a potent factor for the protection of the widows and orphans of its members. He thought it to be the duty of every man to protect his wife and family with some kind of insurance. His remarks were pointed with many humorous illustrations, which were well made. He enlarged upon the benefits to be derived by members of the order and gave several illustrations of the same. The speaker was well received and created a good impression upon those who heard him and were not members of the order.

The general health of a woman is inseparably related to the local womanly health. When the delicate womanly organism is diseased, the body loses plumpness, the cheeks lose their roses, and a nervous and fretful condition becomes habitual.

Thousands of sick women who have been cured of diseases peculiar to the sex by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have testified to the restoration of the general health when the local disease was cured.

"Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy driness, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I used four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Dr. Mer D. Shearer, of Mountbelle, Lancaster Co., Pa., and can say that I am cured of that dread disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Everyone who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June, when I wrote to you, I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. You answered my letter and told me what to do. I followed your advice, and to-day am cured. I tell everybody that with God's help Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me. If these few words are of any use to you, you are welcome to use them. They might help some other poor suffering woman."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

FEBRUARY TRADE
IS SATISFACTORY

Merchants Anticipate an Exceptionally Heavy Spring Business.

QUOTATIONS ON IRON ADVANCE

Exports of Wheat and Corn Show Big Decreases—Cotton Steady with More Liberal Marketing at the South—Valuations for the Week.

New York, March 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Although the shortest month of the year was further curtailed by two holidays and handicapped by the most severe storms of the winter, industrial and trade results were most satisfactory. The closing week brought a general resumption of activity in lines that suffered from the weather and preparation for an exceptionally heavy spring business was reported at many points.

"Insufficient motive power and bad weather combined to restrict the movement of coke from Connellsville and pig iron production suffers at a time when a maximum output would not be excessive. This difficulty extends all along the line. Pressure for structural material is already severe, and will probably be still more so as the regular building season draws nearer. Further hardening of quotations is reported and inquiries for delivery in 1903 are not exceptional. More foreign steel has been engaged and domestic concerns are still bidding in the German market.

"Footwear dealers are leaving New England without doing much more than a fair sample business outside of special lines.

"Makers of cotton goods are very cautious about undertaking future deliveries, owing to the uncertainty as to labor and raw material. Export orders are still available, but at prices slightly below the views of holders. As a rule woolen goods are well maintained and in brisk demand, but new lines of heavy weights are not sought.

"Cereals opened the week with a decided reaction. As usual, speculative liquidation carried the decline too far and there followed the customary recovery. Wheat came into sight rather more freely than a year ago and the Atlantic shipment of flour made a better comparison than in preceding weeks, but total exports of wheat from the United States, flour included, were but 3,185,062 bushels, against 4,224,249 bushels a year ago. Corn showed the customary loss in both movements, receipts amounted to only 2,312,684 bushels against 4,949,783 last year, while Atlantic coast shipments were 184,682 bushels, compared with 3,421,682 in the same week of 1901.

"Cotton ruled fairly steady at the present advance, which attracted more liberal marketing in the South, but supplies in first hands are reported very low. Wool has been taken less freely by mills, but dealers show no lack of confidence in the future of that staple.

"Failures for the week numbered 215 in the United States against 179 last year, and 35 in Canada against 31 last year."

New York, March 1.—Large transfers of gold from New York to San Francisco were sent through the treasury department and the cause of this is that a syndicate of bankers, which includes Brown Brothers of this city and Brown Brothers & Co. of Baltimore, has closed a deal for the purchase of the leading railways of San Francisco. YE DID IT NOT.

There are two classes of people in the world who do something, and who have something to show for the doing. One class is behind the bars, in jails and prisons, serving sentences for wrong doing. The other and larger class is scattered over the land gathering rewards for well doing. There is still another class—and it is by no means small—who are neither convicts nor independent citizens, who simply exist. They are not evil doers, on the whole, they are law abiding people, and yet the prizes of life have not fallen to their lot.

In studying conditions, from the view point of observation, it is interesting to note why so many of this class fail, and it may be truthfully said, that as a rule it is not through lack of honesty. The ranks are crowded with honest people, who would never knowingly defraud a man out of a dollar.

Neither is failure due to physical weakness, or lack of muscular development. No more sturdy class of people live than are found in the ranks of the class who live from hand to mouth, and never know what it is to be out of debt, and a few dollars to the good. This class of failures, may not be attributed to mental inability, for the minds are well balanced, and the reputation of intelligent citizens is enjoyed.

While it is true that misfortune, and circumstances beyond human control, sometimes upset plans and so demoralize a life that failure follows as an unavoidable result, yet this is the exception and by no means the rule.

This sentimental talk about the rich and the poor, the classes and the masses, is the height of nonsense. There are comparatively few poor people, in this land, whose poverty could not be avoided.

Ten per cent. of the entire population would more than represent both classes, and ninety per cent. of the great middle class remaining, would feel insulted if called poor.

The average American citizen, who is met on the farm, in the shop, and on the street, is neither a pauper nor a millionaire. His ambition has never aspired to the latter, and energy and thrift have saved him from the lot of the former. He has long since discovered that a vigorous body, an active brain and a willing mind, when working together with well directed energy, are sure passports to success, and while the measure may not always meet his expectations, yet contentment and happiness result and he is satisfied.

This is a land of well to do people. The savings banks are crowded with money that belongs to the great mass of honest toilers, who have joined the ranks of capitalists. The bulk of residence property, in every city, village and hamlet, represent the thrift and accumulation of years of hard and honest work.

Why is it, in such a land of plenty, that in every community is found a small class of disgruntled people, who seem to feel that the hand of every man is against them, and that the world has dealt unfairly with them.

Many years ago in an oriental city a judge was called upon to pass sentence upon the entire community. He was a righteous magistrate, and possessed a thorough knowledge of all his subjects. As they appeared before him he separated them in groups. On the right and left hand, approving those on the right, and the only word of condemnation to those on the left was "Ye did it not."

He did not accuse them of dishonesty, or of violating any law, for he recognized them as law abiding citizens. The only crime they had committed was the crime of neglect, and for this they must suffer.

This court, established so many years ago, and this righteous verdict, rendered by an impartial judge, has been an open court ever since, and at the bar of this tribunal, cases are being examined and tried, every day. The test of individual character is weighed in an impartial balance, and the verdict rendered is not based on commission of crime, but on omission of duty, and neglect of opportunity. The voice that pronounces the sentence, is so quiet, that it is not often recognized, and the sentence is so slow of fulfillment, that men and women frequently go through life and out of it, without knowing why they failed, and yet neglect is one of the prime causes of failure.

The mind, like the body becomes weak and helpless through inactivity not only to the industrial and commercial world, but to the mental and moral as well. Neglect to improve the opportunities of early life, have sent men and women out to assume responsibilities for which they were not prepared and failure was the natural result.

The boy or girl in the home, may be obedient or negligent. Their are unwritten laws, which date back to the years of accountability, that demand the same faithful observance, as the law which is enforced by the rod.

The girl who anticipates the wants of the mother, and the boy who realizes that there are little things which he can do for the father, and comfort of the home, without waiting for orders, have both taken advanced ground, and the spirit which prompted the voluntary service, carried out into life, where the best service is rendered without command, will be a passport to some of the prizes.

There are some homes where the weeds of neglect, choke out the blossom and destroy the fruitage, just as the rank growth of wild mustard, and noxious weeds, show evidence of neglect around some farm houses.

The work of life which counts for the most, is not only faithful, but inspired by the voluntary spirit. The young man in the store or office, who neglects work however humble, on the plea that "he wasn't hired to do that kind of work," will be in great lack of he retains a position any length of time, and his chances for ever doing anything for himself are very remote.

The boy in the shop or factory who never sees anything to do but the task in hand, and who performs it with his eye on the clock, will never be a superintendent or proprietor.

The four little words, "Ye did it not," contain a great truth. It applies, and the eyes of the mind, if always turned in towards self, and never out towards humanity, soon become hurried with selfishness.

The secular and religious world, needs men and women, who are constantly on the alert for something to do. The voice of command should be an inaudible voice, and yet its tone should be so clear, that it would always be recognized and cheerfully obeyed.

In the world of every day work, reward follows this kind of service with absolute certainty. Every avenue today is calling for volunteers, men and women who see the work to be done, before a word of command is given, and who hasten to do it.

In the realm of the heart, obligations are still more sacred, and the best work, prompted by love, is always voluntary. There is no room for true servers in this Kingdom. Humanity is full of want and every condition of life is subject to it. The rich and the poor, the high and the low, appeal for human sympathy. The appeal is not always recognized, because of dull ears, and careless eyes, but the world is at its best from every standpoint when willing hands and loving hearts respond cheerfully. The sin of neglect is grievous, and is responsible for more wreckage and failure than any crime in the list. "Ye did it not" is a cruel verdict, but all too common.

A new evening daily to be styled "The Herald" is said to be among the new enterprises for Janesville. It is reported that it will be independent in politics, with a leaning toward LaFolletteism. Like all new papers, its mission will be to fill a long felt want. The harvest is said to be ripe and suffering. The Gazette has had the pleasure of saying "good morning" and "good evening" to several enterprises of this kind.

Mr. John Sebastian, general passenger agent of the Chicago and Rock Island road, is at the head of a movement for organizing tourists' camps in the mountains of Colorado. The plan is to provide camping outfits at reasonable prices, and open up the country as a resort for summer pleasure seekers. The movement will meet with popular favor.

One of the most foolish measures now before congress, is the bill providing for a Pacific cable to the Philippines, to be constructed and maintained at government expense. The Postal Company is now engaged in constructing a private line that the government can use at half the expense of maintaining an independent line.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad has established an era of practical temperance reform by issuing an order to all employees, to the effect that the use of intoxicants will not be tolerated, and that any employee who refuses to abstain will be discharged. This may be an infringement on personal liberty, but it is eminently proper, and will meet with public approval.

The weather prophet slipped a cog in his predictions, and instead of the cold weather promised for the last days of February, the rain that should have appeared a week earlier, materialized. Weather men are not infallible. Even ground hogs make mistakes.

Students who use tobacco in any form, have been notified to abstain, under penalty of expulsion, by the Northwestern University. The order is a good one and should be rigidly enforced.

The little town of Viroqua, has a candidate for state bank examiner. Viroqua never lacks for candidates for anything. The town is noted for political trimmings, and the study of politics is a charter provision.

Governor La Follette paid a glowing tribute to the memory of his old time friend, State Bank Examiner, Kild. The governor had known him for many years and the friendship enjoyed was close and mutual.

The state press is saying a good many complimentary things for Senator Whitehead. His candidacy is received with general satisfaction, and The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy that he will make a strong leader.

PRESS COMMENT.

Whitewater Register: Senator Whitehead has acknowledged the call of thousands of voters upon him to become a candidate for the governorship, by accepting the same. His acceptance is brief, manly and outspoken; it will be followed later by a more explicit statement of his views upon state politics. It is a notable fact that Senator Whitehead's call has been signed quite as freely in those parts of the state where it was supposed it would have a cold reception as in the well known stalwart counties. It is evident that the public is ready for a change and for a return to the original ideas of state government which the constitution and good sense impose.

Taxation is something that most of us know something about. Many of us believe that we pay more than we should and that someone pays less. If the corporations are not properly assessed and do not pay their just share of taxes we ought to ascertain the facts and bring about a reform; but we ought to be careful in doing these things that we do not allow ourselves to be misled by the cheap politician, and join him in a relentless crusade against corporations, simply because they are corporations.—Mosinee Times.

In 1901 the equalization of taxes was sidetracked to make way for primary election legislation. The people are in no frame of mind to again chase rainbows and impracticable hobbles at the sacrifice of the question of a more equal adjustment of taxes. The man who is nominated for governor and the men who are nominated for the legislature must be sound upon this question to command the support of the public.—Ascadilla Arcadian.

Was the report sent out from Madison that a great deal of partridge shooting was going on in southwest Wisconsin merely a subterfuge to allow game wardens to do a little electioneering for the Governor? Some one must be getting nervous as to the apparent change of sentiment in this part of the state.—Grant Co. Witness.

Gov. LaFollette keeps adding new cogs to his machine. By the appointment of two new deputy game wardens last week, the numbers of these lieutenants is increased to forty-three, and their salaries are $75 per month each besides expenses.—Grant County Herald.

The addition of three game wardens would seem to indicate that the governor's close season for arresting political backsliders will remain indefinitely open.—Brookhead Register.

A FRANK ADMISSION.
The Wausau Record is a close student of the Free Press. It has found that from Nov. 15 to Feb. 15, a period of 107 days, the Free Press has printed 174 articles clipped from the state press, considered favorable to the cause of the state administration. Of these, twenty-nine were from Democratic papers, and fifty of them from "the subsidized helmsmen at LaCrosse Madison, Oshkosh and Marinette," leaving only ninety-six to be credited to the papers in sixty-seven counties, that contain over 430 papers. Republican and Independent. There were forty-nine items "that could possibly be construed" by the Free Press as favorable to "the cause" it represents. And the Record further says

BELOIT'S SYSTEM OF KINDERGARTENS

Janesville's School Commissioners Make an Investigation with a View of Adoption.

Colin C. MacLean and H. J. Cunningham, two of the committee appointed by the school board to investigate the free kindergarten schools in other cities of the state, visited Beloit Wednesday and made a thorough examination of their systems. The kindergarten system at Beloit has been in operation for twelve years and as a part of the public schools for eight years. At first there was some objection to the schools in that city but this was done away with and now Beloit would not give up her system on any account.

Their kindergartens are conducted in four one story buildings located across the street from the ward schools and cost about $2,500 each to build. They are located near the ward schools so that the janitor of the school can take care of the building.

At Beloit they take children not under four years of age and keep them two years. At the end of that time they are ready to go into the grade schools.

In this city there are many children of four and one-half years in the schools that should be in the kindergarten.

The Beloit system is a model one. The buildings are perfect for this class of work and the average attendance in each school was about one hundred which shows how popular it is in that city.

The school commissioners were much impressed with what they saw in this line at Beloit, and will have a report ready in a short time. They have letters from the following cities that are now conducting kindergartens: Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Appleton, Sheboygan, Beloit, Elkhorn, Delavan, Burlington, Ashland, West Superior, Neenah, Menasha, Fond du Lac, Menominee and Madison. All of these cities speak of their kindergartens in the highest terms and look upon them as a necessary part of their educational system.

ANN COLLINS WAS GIVEN A JUDGMENT

Fourth Trial Since 1895 Results in Her Favor, with a Verdict of $2,500

For the fourth time since 1895, Ann Collins has secured a judgment against the city for injuries sustained by falling on a defective sidewalk on Cherry street.

The jury in the present trial went out about 3:25 yesterday afternoon and concluded their deliberations about 7:30 by bringing in a verdict of $2,500 in favor of the plaintiff. The verdicts in the former cases in favor of the plaintiff were $1,400, $1,700 and $2,700.

In each case the city has appealed to the supreme court, and the judgment was reversed each time. The last time the ground for reversal was that the judgment was excessive and as it was only $200 more than the present judgment it is likely that they will again reverse the findings if the city appeals.

The case was taken up on Tuesday morning and has been hotly contested by the attorneys on both sides. The fact that Miss Collins had already obtained three verdicts against the city was a great handicap to the good show that the verdict might be favorable to the city.

City Attorney Burpee has filed a motion for a new trial and to set aside the verdict on the exceptions taken to the court's rulings and charge. Also because the verdict is contrary to law and the evidence in the case and that the damages are excessive. The motion will be disposed of after the jury calendar is finished.

In the last two appeals of this case the supreme court decided that $1,700 was excessive damages for the injuries received. In their opinion in the last case they say:

"If under any circumstances such a recovery could be sustained it cannot in this case in view of the former decision. The decision to the amount of damages recoverable on a given state of facts in a particular case when once rendered in this court is res adjudicata and absolutely controlling in such case the same as a decision upon any other question."

In case a new trial is not granted or the verdict set aside by Judge Dunwiddie the case will be taken to the supreme court again by the city.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold an Easter bazaar in the church parlors March 26.

He will put in a new front and raise the roof up level with the roof of the Cannon block. The whole upper floor of the two buildings will be made into modern flats which will extend from the corner of Jackson street over the three stores.

HOMEMADE DRESSES.

FULL DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING A SHAPED FLOUNCE PRINCESS GOWN.

How to Cut and Fit a Dressy Affair That May Be Worn in the House or Out of Doors During the Summer.

[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]

The princess shape for home gowns, with some slight modifications from the old styles, is to be a favorite for the coming summer, and it will be adopted for many of the diaphanous as well as rich materials. For the lighter goods it is to be fairly smothered with lace and chiffon in the form of ruffles, the most of them being cut in the new and rather difficult "shaped flounce." With the darts taken in in front the gown becomes snug fitting and is more dressy.

The princess dress is cut in six pieces, not counting the sleeves or flounces, insets or collars. These six pieces are the foundation and reach from the neck to the feet in unbroken lines. If one can obtain a pattern of such a shape, it saves work, but if not a general direction of how to cut one may be given in a few words. Take a pattern of any well fitting waist where there is a seam down the center of the back and by using the diagram as guide cut the waist portion and then extend the line below the waist as long as the skirt is desired, always allowing two inches longer than is necessary for take up and possible inequalities.

The center of the waist at the back should be as narrow as the figure will permit of and is to be slanted out until at the bottom each part of the back is thirty inches wide. The middle of the back is three inches longer than the sides, and the front is sloped off to meet. The two side pieces are to be joined to the backs, beginning at the seam from the top, and the sides are treated in the same way, beginning at the underarm seam. The side pieces are twenty-four inches wide at the bottom each, and the fronts are twenty-four inches each, the whole combining 150 inches around the bottom of the skirt.

PRINCESS GOWN MODEL, plain skirt, but WITH HALF BELT. If two or more flounces are to be added it should not be quite so wide; otherwise the flounces would make it clumsy around the feet.

It will be noticed that in the diagram there is a slash cut in the top of the waist reaching down to within three inches of the front dart and on the same line with it. This is to give more emphasis to the princess form and adds materially to its beauty. At the sides under the arms are curves which give the fit over the hips and throw the fullness toward the back.

This diagram gives the foundation of the princess shape, and where no regular pattern is available it is well to cut one out of the lining and try it to the figure after basting to make sure it is right. Then the outside is to be laid flat and the lining basted to it and cut. It is very essential that the outside and lining should be exactly alike, otherwise it may draw, and that would spoil the effect.

If a train is desired, all that is necessary is for the cutter to extend the lines in the back of each piece as many inches as she wishes the skirt to be longer than the pattern. The slope should be gradual, but decided, and the front parts of each piece should be somewhat longer, all except the middle of the front. The slope on the front breadth should not be over an inch and a half, to preserve the outline.

With the diagram is shown the proper kind of flounce to use on these skirts. It is cut on a square of the cloth, the front part being marked with a cross and the back with a circle. This is but half of the flounce, and the upper edge must be a trifle larger than the exact width of the skirt so that it can be held easily, and, while not at all gathered, it should be sprung. The bottom of the ruffle can be trimmed in any way the wearer wishes, the kind and quality of the material having something to do with the choice.

When the outside and lining are basted, sew the garment, beginning at the top of all seams. The front is left open, so that it is easy to don the dress, and the edges are hemmed. The surplus is turned in at the end of the seam and well fastened. Generally some kind of trimming is placed along the seam. If one should prefer to lap the front to one side or the other, cut the fronts not on the edge of the goods, but as many inches back as it is wished to lap it, and finish it so, following the idea given in the illustration.

There is no rule for the trimming of a princess gown, for every one has her own taste and can follow it, only keeping to the shape.

Quaint Southern Epitaph.

CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause, Generally Over-Looked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom, derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses, all produce headaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called front headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headache is located in back of the head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like eucalyptol, guaiacal and blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says: "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case, because the headaches were always worse when I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure, and after using a few fifty-cent boxes which I procured from my druggist I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50c per package, under guarantee of the proprietors that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures), no opium (so common in cheap cough cures), nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

Consistent Melancholy Her Ideal.

A Quakeress of revolutionary times, Ann Whitall, kept a little diary or book of "meditations," as she quaintly phrased it. She was a very earnest and devout woman, full of good works, but like many of later date, she regarded consistent melancholy as her ideal of conduct. She writes in her diary: "I often think if I could be so fixt as never to laugh nor to smile I should be won step better; it fills me with sorrow when I see people so full of laf and of prate."

When the stomach is diseased all the other organs suffer, hence fatal diseases of the heart, liver, lungs and kidneys are often the result of improper digestion. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE contains all the natural digestive fluids and by digesting what you eat, it cures the indigestion without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its healthy condition and permitting you to eat all the good food you want. "My rest is often disturbed at night by irregular heart action which I believe is on account of my stomach being overloaded with undigested food. I keep a bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE nearby and a small dose always gives me instant relief." Ed. Thomas, Leitchfield, Ky.

CAUGHT BY SNOWSLIDE.

Seventeen Miners Killed and Thirteen Buried Beneath the Debris.
Denver, Col., March 1.—The shaft-house of the Liberty Bell mine at Telluride was swept away by a tremendous snowslide Friday morning. Seventeen men are known to be dead, and it is feared that more than thirty others are buried in the great mass of snow and debris.

This appalling disaster was supplemented at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon by another avalanche, which rushed down Smuggler Mountain, carrying to destruction the men who were endeavoring to rescue the survivors of the first snowslide.

A third slide came down at 3 o'clock, about one mile below the Liberty Bell mine, and Gus Von Fintel, John Powell and Paul Delphese, who were on their return from the scene of the first catastrophe, were swept away. Still a fourth avalanche killed two men.

Among those known to be dead are: Henry Bauer, Raymond Bishop, Harry A. Chase, James Conly, Wade Crow, J. F. Clemmer, Paul Delphese, Harry Golden, Joseph Hennessey, Gus Kraul, Jack Marshall, John Powell, L. D. Stanley, Gus Swanson, H. S. Summerland, Harry Trowbridge, Gus Von Fintel, and fifteen missing from first slide.

Dispatches from Ouray tell of a snowslide on Mount Snedden, killing Curtis Shelton and fatally injuring three other employees of the Camp Bird mine.

Fishermen Adrift on Icefloes.
Bay City, Mich., March 1.—Nearly 300 fishermen are in peril adrift on an immense icefloe in Saginaw Bay. The fishermen were busy with their occupation during the last few hours of the night and failed to notice that the ice near shore had been broken by the seas and that the frozen field beneath them was gradually moving out into the lake. To add to their peril the fog began to give indications of breaking up. The warm weather had honey-combed the ice and made it very dangerous.

Mysterious Wound Is Fatal.
Lagrange, Ind., March 1.—Caleb France, a wealthy farmer living near Paw Paw, met a sudden death as a result of a bullet wound under the left arm. His wife and sons, with whom he quarreled frequently, say that in a fit of insanity, caused by fits of despondency and jealous rage, he tried to commit murder, but that in the scuffle he shot himself.

Brokers Taxed on Margins.
Boston, Mass., March 1.—Chief Justice Holmes of the Supreme Court handed down a decision in the case of Sidney Chase and others vs. The City of Boston, in which he decides that stock brokers carrying securities for customers bought upon margin are the owners of the same and liable for taxes on the same to the city of Boston.

Boers Suffer Heavy Losses.
London, March 1.—The war secretary, Mr. Broderick, announced in the house of commons that during the last two days 600 Boers had been killed or captured and that 2,000 horses and 28,000 head of cattle had fallen into the hands of the British troops. Refuse to Thank Schley.
Washington, March 1.—An unsuccessful effort was made in the House committee on naval affairs to secure consideration of the question of reporting a resolution to tender the thanks of Congress to Rear Admiral Schley. The resolution has been kept in a pigeonhole by a subcommittee for more than two months. Representative Mudd of Maryland moved to discharge the subcommittee and take up consideration of the resolution, but was defeated.

Rochester, N. Y., March 1.—At Putney, near here, Theron Drew, a bachelor of 93, was married to Mrs. Robert Miller, a widow of 90. Seventy-five years ago Drew and Sarah McGraw were engaged. ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made By Many Jamesville Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys! A Jamesville resident tells you how that can be done:

Mrs. S. L. Beaden, of 64 S. River St., says: "During two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrible dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work, and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected, causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headaches, which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any such confidence in them but my daughter got a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store and persuaded me to use them. They took right hold and made a wonderful change in my condition. I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

STUDIOUS GIRLS.

School Days are Dangerous Periods With Our Girls.

A Chicago Girl Relates Her Experience.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham is inclined to the belief that our girls are pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality, — often it is never recovered.

The dawn of womanhood is always a danger period and it is made doubly so by over exertion in study or work.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

The case of Miss Anna Oettinger, whose portrait we publish herewith, is a fair example of over estimation of physical endurance. Read her experience, and how she was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MISS ANNA OETTINGER.

President of the Young Ladies' Society, St. Alphonse Society, of Chicago.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—To be a well woman once more seems little short of perfect happiness. For two years I suffered intensely with nervousness brought on by failing of the womb and general weakness of the female organs. I had leucorrhoea which sapped my strength, and although the doctors said an operation would be necessary I felt too weak to think of undergoing such an ordeal. One of my classmates who had suffered afflictions and been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it, and I was only too glad to do so. I thought there was little hope for me, but was happily disappointed in finding that I soon began to feel better and stronger. I used 15 bottles before I was entirely well, but it was worth one hundred dollars a bottle to me, for it brought me new life and perfect health. Accept a grateful woman's thanks."—ANNA OETTINGER, 1244 Seminary Place, Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I thought I would write and tell you what your medicines have done for me. I suffered with pains in my stomach nearly all the time for one year; had no color in my lips or face and I felt dull all the time. I tried the doctor, but he did me no good. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am now well. Your medicines have done me so much good that I cannot praise them enough."—MISS MARIE CLARK, Starkey, N. Y. (April 10, 1901.)

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be well.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find and that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman loves to think of the time when a soft little body, all her own, will nestle in her bosom, fully satisfying the yearning which lies in the heart of every good woman. But yet there is a black cloud hovering about the pretty picture in her mind which fills her with terror. The dread of childbirth takes away much of the joy of motherhood. And yet it need not be so. For sometime there has been upon the market, well-known and recommended by physicians, a liniment called which makes childbirth as simple and easy as nature intended it. It is a strengthening, penetrating liniment, which the skin readily absorbs. It gives the muscles elasticity and vigor, prevents sore breasts, morning sickness and the loss of the girlish figure.

An intelligent mother in Butler, Pa., says: "Were I to need Mother's Friend again, I would obtain 9 bottles if I had to pay $5 per bottle for it."

Marvelous Elixir of Life Discovered by Famous Doctor-Scientist That Cures Every known Ailment.

Wonderful Cures Are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy Is Free To All Who Send Name and Address.

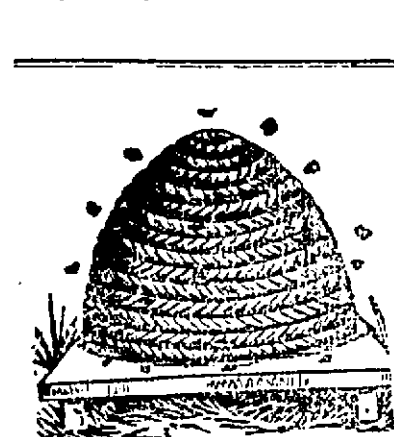

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 332 First National Bank Building, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has securely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free, to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. Two lame men have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fever, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrhs, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs, or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvellous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor, ataxia, dropsy, gout, scurvy and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life," send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.
